Greetings!

Max worked with the Residence Services Web Development team this Fall semester and was an exemplary developer. Max focused on two projects this semester, a system to manage temporary keys at our four area desks, and a system to manage contract permissions for our student housing application. Max implemented these applications using C# .NET with Angular as the JavaScript front end, participated in code reviews, and integrated the code iteratively through our continuous integration and continuous deployment process.

I am incredibly impressed and pleased with Max's work. If you want any additional details or information, I would be happy to provide that.

Sincerely,
